ABOUT GODDESS OF THE MOON

Arcadia Yachts design around a single conviction: that the sea should be felt, not merely seen. On GODDESS OF THE MOON—a Sherpa 60 that took the World Yacht Trophies for Most Innovative Yacht on its debut—that means windows that open fully, a skylounge with 360-degree views, and interiors that take full advantage of the view. But that sea terrace is the clearest expression of this philosophy. At 50 square metres—with the jetski and jet surf stowed in the aft garage, and a Seakeeper Gyro holding everything steady—it functions as a proper outdoor space, with room to lunch, to play, and to while away the day in anchorages larger yachts can't access. Combined with her 25+ metres of solar panels, generating enough power to run the essentials at anchor (around 1.5Kw), GODDESS OF THE MOON is as...
